Course Objective

Macroeconomics is the most interesting and core part of economics. This course is an intermediate level of macroeconomics. We explore the short-run and the long-run behavior of the economy. The course presents recent macroeconomic theories and models based on microeconomic principles. Applications to current and historical economic problems are emphasized. By the end of the course, students should be able to apply the material to understand current discussions about the national economy. The course presents a solid ground in modern theoretical macroeconomics with a “Theory Confronts Data” approach. The course is designed to prepare the student to undertake advanced macroeconomics, pursue graduate studies and/or to become a policy analyst. The approach is even-handed and not biased toward a particular school of thought. The focus is on the market-clearing approach, but with a more central treatment of Keynesian analysis.

Basic knowledge of calculus and algebra are required. Students are responsible for all materials covered in class that is presented in the textbook, in the study guide and in the lecture notes.

Attendance at lectures is not mandatory but is recommended. If you are experiencing any difficulty in this class (or any other), please arrange a meeting with me to discuss it.

E-mail Policy, Lecture Notes and Class Web Page

Office Hours

If my office hours (stated above) conflict with your schedule and you need to see me, please let me know so I can arrange a mutually acceptable time to meet.

Required Book

Stephen D. Williamson. (2005) Macroeconomics. Second Edition, Pearson Education, Addison-Wesley. ISBN: 0-321-24093-6.

Evaluation (Preliminary)

Quiz I (January 31, 2007)	25 %
Quiz II (March 7, 2007)	25 %
Quiz III (April 11, 2007)	25 %
Final Exam (April 30, 2007)	50 %	The FINAL EXAM is from 1:00 p.m. to 3:50 p.m.

I expect you to uphold the guidelines of the Golden Rules, <http://www.ucf.edu/goldenrule>

Only, your best two quizzes will count toward your final grade. Extra-credit assignment(s) are announced in class. No early or make-up exams will be given, unless for a valid reason. The Final Exam is held on Monday, April 30, 2007 from 1:00 p.m. to 3:50 p.m.

Assignments

On the class web page, I will regularly post a set of voluntary assignments. If you undertake these assignments, I will correct them and hand them back to you, but no grade will be allocated to these assignments. The solution is meant to guide you to answer the question. The purpose of these assignments is to prepare the student for the quizzes.

Class Structure

The class will be held in an active-discussion framework. Due to the class size and the limited class time, I suggest that students form study groups outside of class to work through the study guide and end-of-chapter problems.
